NEW CONSULAR RULES.

SERVICE ON MERIT BASIS.

President Orders Appointments on Record or Examinations.

Washington, Nov. 10 .- With the double purpose of offering a permanent career in the diplomatic and consular service to competent young men and of improving those branches of the government service so as to make them more valuable than they now are to the business interests of the country, the President at the instance of Secretary Root to-day announced two new rules. The first of these has not yet taken concrete form, but its substance, as made public, was that hereafter any applicant for appointment as secretary of embassy or legation must possess a knowledge of at least one other language than English, and must be otherwise examined as to his compe-

This rule is closely in line with the English practice, and in its development will involve the promotion of the bright young men in the dipomatic service in the degree that they justify it by hard study fitting them for new posts.

The order as to the consular service amends the existing rule, which requires the examination of such consular officers as are limited in compensation to the maximum of $2,500 a year and a minimum of $1,000. In President Cleveland's administration an effort was made to examine all applicants for consular places, but this was soon abandoned, and the limitation w in vogue was adopted. The purpose of the President and Secretary Root is to take the consular service away from political preferment and to make promotion as well as appointment dependent on absolute merit. These things are med at in the following executive order:

aimed at in the following executive order:

With a view to further increasing the efficiency of the consular service by extending the method now employed for ascertaining the qualifications possessed by candidates for appointment in that service:

It is hereby ordered that the executive order of September 20, 1905, in regard to examinations for the consular service be and it is hereby amended and extended to include all consulates, general commercial agencies and consular agencies, the annual compensation of which is not less than $1,000. Said order, therefore, will read as amended as follows:

It being of great importance that the consular officers of the United States shall possess the proper qualifications for their respective positions to be ascertained rather through a satisfactory record of previous actual service under the Department of State or through an appropriate examination:

It is hereby ordered that any vacancy in a

the Department of State or through an appropriate examination:

It is hereby ordered that any vacancy in a consulate general, consulate, commercial or consular agency now or hereafter existing the salary of which is not less than $1,000 or the compensation of which, if derived from official fees, exclusive of notarial and other unofficial receipts, does not fall below $1,000 shall be filled by a transfer or promotion from some other position under the Department of State of a character tending to qualify the incumbent for the position to be filled; or by appointment of a person not under the Department of State, but having previously served thereunder to its satisfaction in a capacity tending to qualify him for the position to be filled; or by the appointment of a person who, having furnished satisfactory evidence of character, responsibility and capacity, and being thereupon selected by the president for examination, is found upon such examination to be qualified for the position.

for examination, is found upon such examination to be qualified for the position.

For the purpose of this order notarial and unofficial fees shall not be regarded, but the compensation of an office shall be ascertained, if the office is salaried, by reference to the last preciding appropriation act, and if the office is not salaried, by reference to the returns of official fees for the last preceding fiscal year.

The examination herein before provided for shall be by a board of three persons, designated by the Secretary of State, who shall also prescribe the subjects to which such examinations shall relate and the general mode of conducting the same by the board.

A vacancy in a consulate will be filled at discretion only when a sultable appointment cannot be made in any of the modes indicated in the second paragraph of this order.

BURTON AGAIN INDICTED.

Senator Held on Quashed Charges for Third Time. St. Louis, Nov. 10.-The Federal Grand Jury convened to-day, returned an indictment this afternoon against United States Senator Burton of Kansas. The allegations in the present indictment are the same as in the one quashed, which alleged that while a Senator of the United States Senator Burton accepted money from the Rialto Grain and Securities Company of St. Louis, for services rendered before the Postoffice Department in behalf of that company, which was being investigated by inspectors. The only difference is in the legal wording of the indictment, which is changed to avoid errors found in the former indictment by United States Judge Van Devanter.

The Federal Grand Jury was sworn in to-day by Judge Van Devauter, and then, it is said, spent the entire day in the examination of witnesses who, with one or two exceptions, were employes of the Postoffice Department.
W. J. Vickery, chief postoffice inspector, and William G. Cochran, purchasing agent of the Postoffice Department, were among the wit-

This indictment is the third found against Senator Burton, and should a demurrer to this be sustained, it will be impossible to reindict him for his alleged offence in connection with the Rialto company, owing to the statute of

The new indictment charges that Joseph Ralph Burton, while a Senator from Kansas, received from the Riaito Grain and Securities Company $500 in cash. It is charged that this amount was paid in St. Louis. In the present indictment Burton is not charged with receiving any money in Washington, but he is charged with having agreed in St. Louis to accept $500 a month.

W. K. VANDERBILT, JR., GETS LIGHT.

Lakeville, Long Island, Nov. 10 (Special).-Through the efforts of William K. Vanderbilt, jr., all the farmers living about his country place, Deepdale at Lake Success, will have their roadways and farms lighted by electricity within a few weeks. At the meeting of the town board here yesterday a petition headed by William K. Vanderbilt, jr., who s taxed for almost half the property in the school district, was passed upon favorably by the board. Mr. Vanderbilt said he did not wish the roads about his estate lighted at night, but preferred that the uld be distributed between Deepdale and the Great Neck railroad station.

UNVEIL ERIE MONUMENT.

Ceremonies Commemorate Breaking of Ground for System.

Deposit, N. Y., Nov. 10.-A granite monument at the point where the first ground was broken when the construction of the Eric Railroad was begun seventy years ago was unveiled to-day. The town was filled with visitors, among them the members of the Binghamton Chamber of Commerce.

Appropriate ceremonies marked the occasion. The town had been gayly decorated, and the open plot about the monument, where a stand for the speakers had been erected, was decorated with flags and bunting. Country folk began coming down from the hills at daybreak. Some had driven for miles over the mountain roads, and there were others who had trudged patiently for great distances as their grandfathers had walked seventy years before to take part in the ceremony which the monument commemorates. By noon special trains over the Eric had added to the throng so that the streets of the town were crowded.

The monument is at the southeast corner of the village and not far from the track of the railroad. The exercises, began soon after 2 o'clock with an invocation by the Rev. J. H. Colcough. The choir, which consisted of many of the young men and women of the town, some two hundred in all, rendered "America." James T. Rogers, of Binghamton, made the opening address, acting as master of John B. Stanchfield, of Elmira, made the principal address of the afternoon. He went into the history of the railroad and told of the days when the Erie first came into the Delaware Valley. He spoke of the steady growth of the Erle and of the important part that it had played in making his tory. Then he referred to the Eric of this day, with its nearly seven thousand miles of track in seven States and the Province of Ontario.

Following Mr. Stanchfield's address Mr. Rogers introduced Colonel George D. Wheeler, who is able to remember clearly the breaking of the earth that the monument commemorates. That was on No-vember 7, 1835, and Colonel Wheeler is said to be the only living link between the two days. Colonel Wheeler was received with a round of applause and friendly greetings from his friends and neighbors.

D. W. Cooke, assistant general traffic manage of the Erie, made the final address of the after of the Erie, made the final address of the after-noon, and took a look into the future. He showed the possibilities of the railroad as a general topic, and of the future of Erie as a specific one. Imme-diately after Mr. Cooke's address the choir ren-dered the "Erie Anthem." which was composed for the occasion. The crowd caught the air and took up and sang the chorus.

Surviving all its struggles, the beset on every hand,
Surpassing all achievements that its staunchest friend had planned.

The glory of the Eric is the glory of our land,
And may it aways be!

Glory! Glory! Dear old Eric.
Glory! Glory! Dear old Eric.
Glory! Glory! Dear old Eric.

That closed the exercises, but for a long time afterward the crowd interested itself in walking around the monument and inspecting it. The bronze plate, made by the Gorham company, which is on the stone, tells concisely what the granite perpetuates. It reads as follows:

Its completion to Lake Eric was publicly celebrated in New-York and along the route to Dunkirk, May 14, 15, 16, 1851.

TOUGH CLUB JUBILEE.

Lower West Side Organization Celebrates Fortieth Anniversary.

With music and fireworks, feasting and conviviality, the Tough Club, probably the best known so-cial organization of the lower West Side, celebrated last night the fortieth anniversary of its birth. The clubhouse, at No. 27 Grove-st., was crowded with members and friends, whose thorough enjoyment of the celebration was voiced by the band, when it played "We won't go home until morning."

And they didn't. The front of the clubhouse was decorated and a crowd was drawn to the scene by the fireworks and music. Many people thought that it was a joilification over the election of McClellan. The club, however, is not in politics. Its sole object is the promotion of good fellowship among its members. The Tough Club has a far reaching reputation for the quality of its clam chowder, which usually figures prominently in its celebrations. Last night, however, the immense caldron in which the con-coction is brewed was cold and empty. However, the punchbowl, of almost equal capicity, was filled There was one touch of pathos in the scene of festivity. It was the presence of the only surviv-ing charter member of the Tough Club, S. M. Sharp. Not that this veteran of sixty-seven years needed

COTTON REPORT BULLISH.

Washington, Nov. 10.-The crop reporting board of the Bureau of Statistics estimates the condition of cotton, harvested and not harvested, as reported on November 1, 1905, is 68.8 as compared reported on November 25, 1905. As this is the first time a condition report has been made in the month of November no comparisons can be made with condition figures of previous years or with a

The estimate of 68.8 compares with 71.2 as the estimated condition on October 1 and 72.1 on September 1. The report was regarded as bearish and prices dropped 20 to 25 points on the local Cotton Exchange within a very few minutes after the announcement of the government's figures, a mass of selling orders having been put in for execution
